

THE COMING ART EXHIBIT

Is to Open May 16th and Continue Through the Month.

IN OLD CRENSHAW HOUSE

Will Probably Equal the Great Annuals Given in New York—Splendid Work Done by the Present Teacher.

Notes and Gossip.

(By Miss Lucy S. Coleman.)
In the coming exhibition of art in Richmond, there is a wonderful treat in store for the lovers of pictures, as this will surpass any ever held in this city. The exhibition will open May 16th, and will continue throughout the month. It will take place in the spacious old Crenshaw house, on the corner of Main and Adams Streets. Every arrangement for modern lighting and placing of pictures has been made by the committee in charge, and there is no doubt that the one will equal the best of the annuals given in New York. Although this is called the eighth annual exhibition of the Richmond Art Club, it is in reality only the second one, for the work of professional artists, which makes its excellence but the greater matter of wonder.

Too much cannot be said in praise of the Richmond Art Club, not only for the quality of the work, but for the untiring effort and love of art, which has made a great yearly loan exhibit a possibility and a fact. No one can know just what this sustained effort means, who has not seen the exhibitions of the club previous to last year, were confined mainly to school work. Two years ago there was a creditable exhibition with a branch of the Education Association under the leadership of Mr. B. F. Johnson. Each year from the beginning showed a step in advance in the quality of the work, and last May saw the first real loan exhibit.

The success of this venture that throughout last summer and autumn applications for membership in the Art Club were more than doubled. The greatest factor in the growth of the club has been the excellent work of the present teacher, Miss Fletcher, who has installed at the Art School in October last, a model from the Art School of Denver, Col., she finished her studies at the Art Students' League, of New York City, where she was a pupil of George de Forest Brush. Here she received a scholarship for portrait work; from all this, it is evident that the instruction given in our Art School is the best. The small schools are generally regarded as the best for beginners, as they need and there receive more individual training. If the start is properly made, the pupils can be properly guided.

In the selection of the pictures which will shortly be seen here, the committee appointed Miss Fletcher, who has been the most successful person for this task. Each canvas has been submitted to her criticism, and she has just returned from New York, where she had seen the three great exhibitions of the year, viz.: The Water Color Society, Society of American Artists and the ten American painters. She is enthusiastic about the prospect, and the interesting fact that the artists generally are interested in the work done here, and that they regard Richmond as an art center of growing importance.

Among those who have promised pictures for the coming exhibition appear the names of Henry B. Snell, who is considered the master water colorist in this country; John S. Sargent, who is popularly known as the painter of "the evolution of printing in the new Library of Congress at Washington; Elliott Delinger, field, Henry Cox, Mrs. Kenyon Cox, Ben. Brown, C. C. Currier, of France; Troubetzkoff, Rhonda Holmes Nichols, Bolton Jones, Charles Warren Eaton, Benson, Tarbell, De Camp and Reed, of the ten American painters, Louis Leob, Louis Mora, and others. The interesting fact that the artists generally are interested in the work done here, and that they regard Richmond as an art center of growing importance.

The appreciative beholder of a picture or any work of art, not only possesses the time, but may have it for his own for all time if he but construes the message which it brings to all who see and comprehend.

It has recently been said that the greatest possibilities for all sided development are to be found among the people of the South, evidenced this long while in our literary distinction. The steady advance in music and now a growing movement for pictorial art sets the stamp upon an aesthetic people. This, then, is the ripe time to make Richmond the art center, not only of the State, but of the whole South. Let the word go forth that each spring will be held not only a great music festival, but an exhibition of pictures that would be creditable to New York or Boston. The friends of art, made from afar, friends will meet in a common interest, and our city will blossom like a rose.

The primary object of any exhibition of art is not only to set up a standard for all lovers of the beautiful, but also to induce everyone to introduce beauty into their homes and daily lives. Things which must exist may as well be beautiful as the contrary, and if those things which are beautiful are more difficult of attainment, then cheerfully let us have fewer, less art, but better. A good picture or none. It is to be hoped that many of the visitors to the Richmond Art Club will find a permanent home in Richmond, not only in the houses of the wealthy few, but the moderate many, who must be sparing of luxuries and yet yet have beauty in their homes. There will set the pace for many more who will come to realize that pictures are as safe an investment as jewels or plate. Some of the most beautiful canvases in this year's collection were brought by Richmond people and now there will be much more to choose from. It is a notable fact that in our wealth of historical interest, our beautiful colonial architecture, our stories in bronze and marble, in all this sympathy, one note is missing, which is good pictures. It is scarcely necessary to mention that nearly all the pictures to be shown here are for sale.

The Richmond Art Club, to whose indefatigable efforts we owe this anticipated artistic treat, was started eight years ago with twenty members. Previous to that time the art students of art went to New York or other Northern schools for instruction. In 1895, the Art Club was organized, but had a precarious existence for some time, because of the small membership. These, however, knew the possibilities of our people and worked to gather enthusiastically, receiving such instruction as could be had from short courses of lessons and instruction in certain branches from the members themselves. Two years ago a regular teacher was engaged and Miss Williamson, of Philadelphia, did good work during her year at the school. The greatest success to the school and club came with Miss Fletcher, under whose teaching the progress of the students has been phenomenal, so that now the condition of the club is such as to place it upon an equal footing with any like organization in the city. The president of the Richmond Art Club is Major James Dooley.

BLACK, which is in fashion this Spring, is great for stout men—makes them look smaller.

For slight men, here are checks small in themselves, but they make the wearer look larger.

And prices for both fat and thin pocket-books.

And furnishings built on the same liberal plan; shirts in the new grays with bright stripes, handkerchiefs of the new order and hose the same.

We are making more SHIRTS TO ORDER than the houses whose regular business it is, and there's good reason for it, of course.

To Erect Elegant Residences.

A contract was awarded yesterday for the erection at once of a handsome three-story residence on Monument Avenue, between Meadow and Allison Streets. The residence is to be completed by October 1st and it will cost in the neighborhood of $50,000.

It is understood that the contract will be given out during this week for another handsome residence on Monument Avenue, just west of the monument. A well-known business man purchased yesterday a lot fronting 60 feet on Franklin Street, just west of the monument and the price paid for the property was $100 per foot and it is understood that he will build upon the property.

BISHOP WILL CONFIRM CHILDREN

First Communion Services in Two Catholic Churches To-Day.

The sacrament of Holy Communion and Confirmation will be administered this morning at the 7-o'clock mass at the Sacred Heart Church to a large number of children, who have been under instruction for the past three months by Rev. J. B. O'Hellier, pastor of the Sacred Heart Church. Bishop Van De Vyver will confirm the children immediately after the mass.

In the afternoon at 4 o'clock, the baptismal vows will be read by Little Miss Walsh, and the children will renew the vows made by their sponsors in holy baptism.

At St. Mary's German Catholic Church at the 7-o'clock mass, the sacrament of Holy Communion will also be administered to a class of children, who have been under the care and guidance of Rev. Father William. The confirmation services will take place in the evening at 8 o'clock by Bishop Van De Vyver and the baptismal vows will be renewed. The mass at both churches will be of unusual high order and the sacraments will be beautiful with a profusion of wax tapers and lovely flowers.

The Elks and the Musical Talent of the City Follow the Pace Set by Boston—Mass-Meeting in West Point.

Whereas, at midnight of April 30th, West Point was visited by a disastrous fire, burning out the very heart and business center, destroying most of our stores and supplies, leaving many families homeless and destitute.
The Business Men's Association, on behalf of the people of West Point, hereby express our great appreciation and gratitude for the sympathy and aid extended to the town. The Relief Committee—H. I. Lewis, B. W. Edwards, A. Ransom, W. H. Barker, R. C. Carden—appointed by the association this day, with power to act in conjunction with other like committees of the town, will gladly receive any contributions for relief of the needy sufferers.
The association pledges itself to see that any contributions sent shall be properly distributed.

Total, $269.25

As will be observed from the foregoing list of subscriptions, which do not begin to tell the tale of coming local contributions, Richmond may be counted upon to do its part towards relieving the suffering of the first-stricken West Pointers. A number of other contributions have been made, but through a different channel, so it is impossible to accurately tell just how much was realized yesterday.

As has been stated, every drugstore and hotel in Richmond has been designated as a depository for the acceptance and acknowledgment of subscriptions to the West Point fire fund, and yesterday morning all sections of the city.

CONTRIBUTED A THOUSAND.
At the instance of Mr. H. I. Lewis, of the Business Men's League, of West Point, a special meeting was held yesterday afternoon, and such action as they deemed wise was taken. At the gathering a telegram from Mr. Reuben Foster, of Baltimore, president of the Chesapeake Steamship Company, was received, in which his deepest sympathy was expressed, and authorizing the town to draw on him to the extent of $1,000. Many other similar messages were received, but no instance was such a magnanimous donation received.

Messrs. T. H. Edwards, J. U. Fogg, R. J. Palmer, W. J. Marshall and W. H. Barker were appointed a committee to draft suitable resolutions, and they returned the card which is giving at the head of this column.

BOSTOCK'S BENEFIT.
While the donations of private sources promise to be considerable, it is expected to realize quite a sum from benefits which are to be given for the sufferers. As stated Mr. Frank C. Bostock has agreed to give the entire proceeds of a special performance on May 11th to the sufferers. This will necessitate the show remaining in Richmond a week longer than contemplated.

Last night Mr. Bostock received the following telegram from A. W. Eastwood, Mayor of West Point:
"On behalf of the town of West Point, I beg to gratefully acknowledge your generous gift of $250, through The Times-Dispatch for the relief of sufferers of the disastrous fire of Friday morning last."

In the meantime, the Elks players, who recently gave a minstrel performance at the Elks Home, will repeat their successful performance next Friday night, the proceeds to be given to West Point.

The Elks' Minstrels.

The cast is composed as follows:
George Primrose, Epps, Low Dockstader, Glenn, Jack Haverly, Peters, Al Field, Hicks, George Wilson Mills, Twirley Anthony, Pinola Phillips, Wingo Atkinson, Only Cunningham, Press Eldridge, Ferguson, Milton Barlow Pollock, Putty Armilange, Nil New Va. Bros, Pants Linder, Bill J. Jacobs, Tio Wise.

3. Monologue, Low Dockstader, Glenn.
4. Selection, Only Cunningham.
5. Wizard of the Baggage Car, Two Y's.
6. Grand Finale, By the Entire Company.
COST OF REBUILDING.
Since the fire last evening men and builders have inspected the burned district, and it is estimated that it will cost over $250,000 to rebuild the city. This is about $100,000 in excess of the estimated loss, but is easily understood, as it will naturally cost more to construct a new building than the old one was worth. The estimated cost of the loss in the burned district is as follows:
The "New-Dispatch" yesterday morning was substantially correct, being based upon the figures of Mr. E. Wilkins, the leading insurance man, and property holder of the city, himself a big sufferer. Arrangements are being made by the best musical talent of Richmond for a

THE BLACKSTONE AND SOUTHERN

Work Has Been Begun and Will Be Pushed Vigorously on Road to Chase City.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BLACKSTONE, VA., May 2.—Work on the new Blackstone and Southern Railroad has finally commenced, a beginning being made a few days ago, when a force of men were set to work to clear off the right of way. This was followed by work of grading, and it is hoped soon to have a large force of hands employed.

The day of beginning was very much of a holiday with many of the town people, as numbers of them went out to see the work going on.

Nearly all the right of way on the section between this point and McKennay, on the Seaboard Air Line, has been secured, and good progress is being made on the portion between here and Chase City.

The entire line is about sixty miles. Twenty miles from this place to McKennay and forty miles to Chase City. The latter route is not only a very long, but much more expensive to construct, amounting to about double the cost of the former, per mile.

The Northern parties who are interested in the building of this road, by agreement, were down here this week, and expressed themselves as being entirely satisfied with the situation of affairs. Every bond has been issued and the entire force of men has been secured and five miles of the road built ready for the trains. Every effort is being made to comply with these preliminaries, and it is thought the greatest difficulties have now been overcome.

Work has also been begun in rebuilding the business square which was destroyed in February. The bulk of the work is now under way, and will be pushed as fast as possible. The former building is on the corner of Main and Broad Streets, and is to be a very handsome structure. Work on some of the others is also expected to begin in a short while.

The new residence of Mr. H. H. Soy, which is being built to replace the one lost by fire a short time since, is also under construction, and is being pushed as fast as the weather will permit. When completed this is expected to be, perhaps, the handsomest residence in town.

Another handsome residence upon which work has just begun is that of Mr. Norman M. Neblett, of Brunswick county, who will, when his residence is completed, move his family to this place to reside in the future.

The political situation, as regards the legislative fight, is very much mixed here now. The Speaker of the House is being requested to do so by the county committee of this, Notaway, county and Amelia, the two forming the legislative district, he then directed the efforts of the two counties not to make a united effort to elect him, but to let the election be held at the appointed time.

An effort is being made to get a majority of the committees of the two counties to join in a day in the near future for holding the election. It is reported that twenty-three of the thirty Notaway committee have signed this petition. It

South Boston Warehouses Unwilling to Go Into Danville Warehouse Combine.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
DANVILLE, VA., May 2.—Mr. E. K. Jones, president of the Danville Tobacco Association, submits the following report of the sales on this market for the past month:

Total sales for April, 1903-2,678,113 pounds.
Total sales for April, 1902-1,055,838 pounds.
Increase for April, 1903-2,012,785 pounds.
Sales for eight months ending April 30, 1903-21,528,300 pounds.
Sales for eight months ending April 30, 1902-7,249,237 pounds.
Increase to date-14,279,063 pounds.

The total sales for the past eight months have been unusual and are the largest in the history of Danville. The past week has shown a little more activity, and a considerable quantity of the weed has been sold here. It has been predicted that each week that all the tobacco had been brought in, but despite these predictions a considerable quantity of nondescript offerings have been brought in. The price of the weed has been a little bit stiffer than for several weeks past.

On South Ection Breaks.

SOUTH BOSTON, VA., May 2.—On Tuesday and Wednesday sales lasted all evening. Since the land has dried, the farmers commenced preparing land for corn and tobacco. Consequently the breaks were small the latter part of the week, lasting only a few hours. The price of the weed has been a little bit stiffer than for several weeks past.

Gentlemen from Danville have made two visits to the town to try and get the tobacco here to enter into a combine, such as has been organized in Danville. As yet they have not succeeded. The price of the weed has been a little bit stiffer than for several weeks past.
